

Southend Borough Libraries Media Release January 2010

Holocaust Memorial Day Art Exhibition

Monday 25th January –
Wednesday 3rd February
Ground Floor Gallery
Southend Central Library

This year the library hosts two equally poignant art exhibitions to commemorate Holocaust Memorial Day:

Watercolours by Paul Winner

This exhibition by renowned artist Paul Winner, depicting life during the Holocaust, has been kindly loaned courtesy of the Holocaust Memorial Day Trust. Paul's paintings have been exhibited internationally and sold in aid of many charities including British Red Cross and St. John Ambulance.

www.paulwinnerart.co.uk

'Doubletake' by David Shields

A photographic exhibition from local photographer documenting Holocaust sites around Europe. This truly atmospheric show renders the landscapes of these distant and chilling places tangibly close with a technical proficiency and clarity of colour. David is from Leigh and has exhibited widely across the country.

www.davidshieldsphotography.com

www.southend.gov.uk/library

